

St. Joan of Arc

Name _____

(1412-1431)

Feast: May 30

Maid of Orleans

St. Joan of Arc was a young girl from Orleans, France. She heard the voices of saints calling on her to save her country, which was at war with England. In those days, women didn't go off to fight in wars, but Joan put on a suit of armor and became the leader of the army! She fought and won many battles, but in the end she was arrested by her enemies and burned at the stake. Joan was very brave and not afraid to do what God and the saints had called her to do. Today she is the patron saint of France.
