Thirty First Sunday in Ordinary Time

OUR VISION

We envision St. Peter's to be a dynamic and growing parish through our: expressions of faith and worship, service to one another and the broader community, welcoming new members, compassion and ministry in pastoral care, and stewardship of God's gifts and blessings.

OUR MISSION

The Church of St. Peter, the first Catholic parish in Minnesota, serves as a cornerstone of faith and heritage, where we welcome all to celebrate and live as the Body of Christ. We embrace our commitment to continue this founding legacy, care for future generations, and advance the Kingdom of God.

From the Pastor's Desk

Are you “elected out”? On Tuesday the political campaign that seems to have been going on for years will at last come to an end in what is certain to be an exciting evening of election returns. Sometimes our prayers have about them a tone that demands that God do what we want him to do. Sometimes when I just sit and in my mind talk things over with God, I have realized how absurd it would be to ask him to make the election come out the way I prefer. I think God might laugh (or shake his head) at our anxiety over political matters, which often depart dramatically from the matters of eternity. I do not mean to say this election is not important. So please look at your choices from the perspective of your Catholic faith, and vote accordingly. What we believe really ought to affect every aspect of who we are. In my prayer lately, after I remind myself not to try to tell God who should be elected, I call to mind that God is in charge. No matter what happens, we will be all right because he loves us and offers us all an invitation to eternal happiness with him.

It is November, and Christians remember to pray for people who have died. The beautiful custom of praying for those who have died has its roots in some awareness of life after death that dates back to before the dawn of the Christian faith. Concern for the dead predates the Jewish faith, even in what existed in Europe before Christianity arrived there. Those who brought the Christian faith to Europe would have discovered that the pagan people there felt some connection to people who had died. They had customs and rituals that certainly did not fit very well with the Christian faith – customs that could be and were in fact changed. In a new form, they were adopted as practices acceptable for Christian people.

So a desire to maintain a relationship with people even after they have died is something that is felt deep in the human soul. It was felt by pre-Christian people, and we feel it today. People began to keep All Souls Day as a liturgical feast in certain places as long ago as the year 988. It is good to pray for the dead, and to recall that the ties that connect us to one another in life do not unravel with death. We all remain part of the same Church, if we are baptized. Those who are being purified after death, waiting to enter into the fullness of Paradise in the presence of God, are part of the Church. The blessed in heaven, who already share in the inner life of God the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit, are part of the Church. And we who live here on earth are part of the Church. So we have a duty to remember in our prayers those who have died and can benefit from our requests to God that he show them his mercy. These souls who can benefit from our prayers are the souls in Purgatory, those who are being purified.

Pope Benedict taught us about this purification and prayer for the dead in his 2007 encyclical letter Spe Salvi (see especially paragraphs 46, 47, and 48). He reminds us that we already know from experience that neither the state of being totally bad nor totally good is normal in human life. For most people, “much filth covers purity, but the thirst for purity remains.” When people appear before the Judge, “will all the impurity they have amassed through life cease to matter?” He directs us to St. Paul, who says in First Corinthians 3:12-15 that a certain kind of man “will be saved, but only as through fire.” We have to “pass through fire” to be open to receiving God, the Pope tells us, and points out that some theologians believe “that the fire that both burns and saves is Christ himself, the Judge and Savior. The encounter with him is the decisive act of judgment. Before his gaze all falsehood melts away ... Yet in the pain of this encounter, when the impurity and sickness of our lives becomes evident to us, there lies salvation.” This allows us to become totally ourselves and thus totally of God.

The Holy Father also reminds us that the practice of Christian hope also includes prayer for the dead. By the first century before Christ, Jewish thought included the belief that the dead who are in the intermediate state can be helped (2 Maccabees 12:38-45), and Christians adopted the practice. The souls of the dead can be comforted by the Eucharist, by prayer, and by almsgiving – this is “the belief that love can reach into the afterlife.” In a beautiful way he answers the objection that third parties cannot do anything for somebody else’s purification: “Our lives are involved with one another... The lives of others continually spill over into mine.” Our prayer can play a small part in the purification of somebody else. We should not ask only, “How can I save myself?” Instead we should ask, “What can I do in order that others may be saved and that for them, too, the star of hope may rise? Then I will have done my utmost for my own personal salvation as well.”

Religious Education/ Faith Formation (RE/FF)

Sunday School Program

We are very happy to welcome Beth Newton as our new Sunday School Coordinator. Beth has grown up in this parish and is a wonderful addition to our staff. She is currently finishing her last year of college focusing on Early Childhood Education while she works as a preschool teacher. Beth is also in process of planning her wedding which is to be here at St. Peter's in the summer of 2013. Although an extremely busy young woman, she is wonderful with the little ones and looks forward to working with the young children here at St. Peter's. She officially began her position here on November 1. Please stop by the classrooms to welcome Beth; we want her to know how happy we are that she has joined St. Peter's staff and we are very excited to have her as part of the religious education team.

Giving Tree

It may seem very early to think about Christmas and the Giving Tree, but there are so many things that need to be done by those who work with the program that it is necessary to begin now so we have things ready for the families before Christmas. If you are aware of someone, yourself or others, in need of Christmas gifts from the parish, please use one of the flyers available in the Gathering Space to recommend them for the Giving Tree by Sunday, November 13. Your help in identifying recipients is very important. If you have any questions, please contact Lisa Amos at 651-905-4304 or lamos@stpetersmendota.org.

Married Couple Retreat

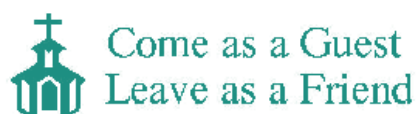

Join other couples from St. Peter's on November 9 & 10 for Empowering Couples: Building on Your Strengths. This retreat is for all married couples in all stages of their marriage. Spend time with each other and with other couples rediscovering your strengths as a couple, learning how to use those gifts to build up other areas of your relationship, and in prayer together. The retreat begins with dinner Friday night at 6:00 p.m. and wraps up at 3:00 p.m. Saturday afternoon. The retreat offers a variety of opportunities for fun, work, and prayer.

Registrations are necessary to ensure that we have an adequate supply of materials. Please register by contacting Lisa Amos in the parish office no later than November 4. The cost of the retreat is $45 per couple. Financial assistance is available upon request. More information may be found on our website and in brochures available on our poster in the Gathering Space.

Bounty Fund

Because of St. Peter's Bounty Fund, many people have benefited from your anonymous financial gifts. The Bounty Fund gives us the opportunity to direct anonymous financial gifts to those in need in our parish or surrounding community. If you wish to contribute to the Bounty Fund, please make a check to St. Peter's and direct it to my attention. God bless you for your generosity and the sharing of your bounty with our sisters and brothers.

Marriage Minute

Marriage Matters: How could changing the legal definition of marriage have any effect on religious liberty?

Changing the legal term “marriage” is not one change in the law, but rather amounts to thousands of changes at once. The term “marriage” can be found in family law, employment law, trusts and estates, healthcare law, tax law, property law, and many others. These laws affect and pervasively regulate religious institutions, such as churches, religiously-affiliated schools, hospitals, and families. When Church and State agree on what the legal term “marriage” means (the union of one man and one woman), there is harmony between the law and religious institutions. When Church and State disagree on what the term “marriage” means (e.g., if the State redefines marriage), conflict results on a massive scale between the law and religious institutions and families, as the State will apply various sanctions against the Church for its refusal to comply with the State’s definition. Religious liberty is then threatened.

FORWARD IN FAITH
 2013-2015 DEBT REDUCTION CAMPAIGN

CHURCH OF ST. PETER

- ❖ Last weekend, many parishioners completed their commitment card at Mass while others took a packet home to give their decision a little more prayerful thought.
- ❖ We thank those who stepped forward in faith with their commitment to help us reach our $2,202,625 campaign goal to help fund our principal and interest payments over the next three years, apply additional funds directly to our mortgage principal to reduce interest expense, repay archdiocesan assessments, and complete several deferred repairs and improvements in our facilities.
- ❖ The responses are being carefully and confidentially entered into each household record. Please watch for a report of our success in the bulletin at the conclusion of our In Pew Invitation.
- ❖ This weekend and next we will continue to invite parish members and visitors to offer their support during each Mass. For those parishioners and visitors who have not offered their commitment, envelopes, cards and pencils are available in church and in the gathering space.
- ❖ In addition to our financial goal, we want to invite broad participation from our entire parish. Therefore, it is very important that we have a response from every registered household. Please offer your support and eliminate the time, energy and expense to personally contact you.
- ❖ You may offer your commitment, seal it in the confidential envelope and:
 - ✓ Place your sealed envelope in the collection basket next weekend, or
 - ✓ Mail your commitment to the parish office, or
 - ✓ Deliver your commitment to the parish office during normal business hours.
- ❖ We are grateful for your participation and generosity. Thank you!
