Twenty Ninth Sunday in Ordinary Time
World Mission Sunday

OUR VISION
We envision St. Peter's to be a dynamic and growing parish through our: expressions of faith and worship, service to one another and the broader community, welcoming new members, compassion and ministry in pastoral care, and stewardship of God's gifts and blessings.

OUR MISSION
The Church of St. Peter, the first Catholic parish in Minnesota, serves as a cornerstone of faith and heritage, where we welcome all to celebrate and live as the Body of Christ. We embrace our commitment to continue this founding legacy, care for future generations, and advance the Kingdom of God.

From the Pastor's Desk

I enjoyed being able to speak to all of you at Mass last week about the important days that lie ahead, as we launch our debt reduction campaign. In early September, at the four presentation/dialogue meetings we held, the planning committee invited questions to be asked and answered publicly, for all to hear. We also invited written questions and comments. We mailed the lengthy presentation document to those who did not attend and invited written questions from all of those parishioners, too. Then we created a document that describes what the reaction of the parish was to the proposed plan. In it, we address the seven most commonly asked questions that emerged from the presentations. I do hope you enjoyed reading that document, and that the answers we provided were helpful. It turns out at least one more topic has not been clarified in a satisfactory way, and I would like to do that now.

The topic involves the budget summary on page 22 of the 32-page presentation document. I have been asked why the operating budget does not include our mortgage payments. At the presentation/dialogue meeting at which this was brought up in the question-and-answer time, I explained that it was standard practice for churches to keep operations separate from the capital fund. I said I knew of only one parish that attempts to pay capital expenses (the mortgage payments) out of the operating budget (Sunday collections and other regular income), and that it created a very difficult situation for that parish. Now I have heard of a second parish that does the same thing, and the strain on the budget is enormous. That is why most parishes cleanly separate capital debt service from regular parish operations. As a matter of fact, as our planning committee sat discussing this matter, one member pointed out that at the level of county government the same practice is used: capital expenses are separated from operating expenses.

I am told that standard accounting procedures (fund accounting) call for separate funds to be maintained. At our parish we actually have three funds: the operating fund, the capital fund, and the cemetery fund. The income the parish receives when someone buys a cemetery plot is kept within the cemetery fund. It cannot be used to buy altar wine or photocopier toner or pay the telephone bill. Within the capital fund is kept all of the income from the capital pledges (or debt reduction pledges) that are offered by the people of the parish. The mortgage payments are made using that fund, not using people's regular Sunday contributions.

Were we to decide to eliminate the capital fund and pay the mortgage out of the operating fund, we would also add to the operating fund the income we get from people's capital pledges (or debt reduction pledges). That way we would have enough money in that single fund to pay $440,352 in mortgage payments every year. Without people's generous contributions through capital campaigns (or debt reduction campaigns), we would not be able to pay the mortgage at all. To anyone who fears that the parish's debt is growing each year, please be assured that our debt is not growing. We are making our mortgage payments. Our finances are monitored by our Finance Council, our parish trustees, Catholic Finance Corporation, and the Archdiocesan Office of Administration and Financial Services. And we will continue to keep a strict separation among our three funds: operating, capital, and cemetery.

One of the debates in this election season might have left Catholics scratching their heads and wondering whether concerns about the Health and Human Services requirement had been eased. Catholic hospitals and universities that also serve non-Catholics are indeed still required to violate Church teaching. Please read the following from an October 12 statement by the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops:

Last night, the following statement was made during the Vice Presidential debate regarding the decision of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) to force virtually all employers to include sterilization and contraception, including drugs that may cause abortion, in the health insurance coverage they provide their employees:

“With regard to the assault on the Catholic Church, let me make it absolutely clear. No religious institution—Catholic or otherwise, including Catholic social services, Georgetown hospital, Mercy hospital, any hospital—none has to either refer contraception, none has to pay for contraception, none has to be a vehicle to get contraception in any insurance policy they provide. That is a fact. That is a fact.”

This is not a fact. The HHS mandate contains a narrow, four-part exemption for certain “religious employers.” That exemption was made final in February and does not extend to “Catholic social services, Georgetown hospital, Mercy hospital, any hospital,” or any other religious charity that offers its services to all, regardless of the faith of those served. HHS has proposed an additional “accommodation” for religious organizations like these, which HHS itself describes as “non-exempt.” That proposal does not even potentially relieve these organizations from the obligation “to pay for contraception” and “to be a vehicle to get contraception.” They will have to serve as a vehicle, because they will still be forced to provide their employees with health coverage, and that coverage will still have to include sterilization, contraception, and abortifacients. They will have to pay for these things, because the premiums that the organizations (and their employees) are required to pay will still be applied, along with other funds, to cover the cost of these drugs and surgeries.

So we do still need to be concerned about what the federal government is requiring of Catholic institutions and any other institution or company that does not want to provide sterilization, contraception, and abortifacients to its employees.

All Saints Day and All Souls Day

On the Church's calendar, every day has a rank: weekday, optional memorial, obligatory memorial, feast, or solemnity. Some of the solemnities are so important that we have an obligation to observe them as we would observe a Sunday. There are five of these holy days of obligation in our Archdiocese: the Immaculate Conception of the Blessed Virgin Mary (December 8), Christmas (December 25), Mary, Mother of God (January 1), the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary (August 15), and All Saints (November 1). Two of those days, December 8 (because it is our national feast day in the United States) and December 25 are holy days of obligation every year. On the other three solemnities, there is no obligation to come to Mass if the day falls on a Saturday or a Monday.

Thursday, November 1, is the Solemnity of All Saints and a holy day of obligation. Masses will be at 7:00 AM in the Historic Church, 9:00 AM in the Main Church, and 7:00 PM in the Main Church.

Friday, November 2 is the Commemoration of All the Faithful Departed (All Souls), and Mass will be at 9:00 AM as usual, with our annual commemoration prayer service at 6:00 PM in the Main Church.

Giving Tree

It may seem very early to think about Christmas and the Giving Tree, but there are so many things that need to be done by those who work with the program that it is necessary to begin now so we have things ready for the families before Christmas. If you are aware of someone, yourself or others, in need of Christmas gifts from the parish, please use one of the flyers available in the Gathering Space to recommend them for the Giving Tree by Sunday, November 13. Your help in identifying recipients is very important. If you have any questions, please contact Lisa Amos at 651-905-4304 or lamos@stpetersmendota.org.

Faithfully Fit Forever

Join us; new participants are always welcome! This exercise class for mature adults focuses on whole body health. Please join us on Tuesdays from 1-2 in the Ravoux Room. Questions? Please contact Lisa Amos at 651-905-4304 or lamos@stpetersmendota.org.

Marriage Minute

Marriage Minute: Why can't marriage be redefined?

The word "marriage" isn't simply a label that can be attached to different types of relationships. Instead, "marriage" reflects a deep reality – the reality of the unique, fruitful, lifelong union that is only possible between a man and woman. Just as oxygen and hydrogen are essential to water, sexual difference is essential to marriage. The attempt to "redefine" marriage to include two persons of the same sex denies the reality of what marriage is. It is as impossible as trying to "redefine" water to include oxygen and nitrogen.

Appalachia Christmas Project

Drop off your NEW, UNWRAPPED gifts for the people of Appalachia by Friday, November 2. Items can be placed in the marked boxes located in the office entrance and the coat room.

Packing will occur on Monday, November 5, at 9:35 a.m. in the Ravoux Room. Please consider stopping by to help for a short while!

Items needed include: School supplies and books (note: fewer coloring books should be donated than in the past); practical household items such as towels, cook sets, kitchen supplies and household tools; and toys (note: it has been suggested that donors purchase one good toy instead of many less expensive toys that, all too often, break).

Also, please remember to donate leftover Halloween candy or bags of wrapped candy—something these children do not get very often.

If you have questions or would like to volunteer to help pack on November 5, please contact Paula Ehrich at 651-686-0235.

Thank you for your donation and your support! In their words:

"We so appreciate all that you do and all that is sent to our communities."

Honoring Our Past....Shaping Our Future

“For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.” Matthew 6:21

- † Next weekend in our church we will invite everyone over the age of 18 to join us in offering a new financial commitment from January 1, 2013 – December 31, 2015.
- † Your financial support will help fund our principal and interest payments over the next three years, apply additional funds directly to our mortgage principal to reduce interest expense, repay archdiocesan assessments, and complete several deferred repairs and improvements in our facilities.
- † The commitment should be above what you contribute weekly or monthly to support the annual operating needs of our parish ministries and the tuition/fees for our education programs.
- † To help with the process, we will have cards, envelopes and pencils available in the church and you will be able to offer a personal or family commitment during each of our weekend Masses.
- † Please take a few minutes to review the important information that you will receive in the mail this week and come prepared to offer your commitment at Mass next weekend or the following two weekends.
- † Offering your commitment in church will help save us the time and expense of contacting you through a follow up effort.
- † May God, who every day gives each of us the capacity to respond to many challenges, continue to bless you and St. Peter’s Parish. Thank you for your cooperation and commitment!
