Twelfth Sunday in Ordinary Time

OUR VISION

We envision St. Peter's to be a dynamic and growing parish through our: expressions of faith and worship, service to one another and the broader community, welcoming new members, compassion and ministry in pastoral care, and stewardship of God's gifts and blessings.

OUR MISSION

The Church of St. Peter, the first Catholic parish in Minnesota, serves as a cornerstone of faith and heritage, where we welcome all to celebrate and live as the Body of Christ. We embrace our commitment to continue this founding legacy, care for future generations, and advance the Kingdom of God.

Reflections from our Pastoral Associate

The Psalm from today's Mass, Psalm 63, holds a deeply personal message for me. This psalm of David, composed when he was in the dry and barren wilderness of Judah, is a particularly powerful reflection on the intimate relationship between God and worshipper — more specifically, between God and each one of us.

I think it's important to start by highlighting a little of what's going on in the psalm. As I mentioned, David is writing from the inhospitable desert of Judah where he is challenged by physical thirst and discomfort. In addition, and more difficult in David's eyes, is his separation from God, because he is a long distance from the Temple. This distance is such a hardship because of the close personal relationship the king has with God.

As the psalm begins, David immediately declares his faith in God as his personal God. For him, God was not a distant and detached historical persona, but a living God intimately invested and active in David's life. Today we can have that same personal relationship with God, through Jesus Christ! Although our sins in history and today separate us from God, we are redeemed through Christ's Perfect Sacrifice. In His love for us and in the relationship that He desires with us, we have been offered this free gift, and all that we need to do to accept it is to put our complete trust in Jesus.

Even cast into the desert, away from his palace and the temple, David sings praises to God. Even after having lost everything, David, a king, turns to worshipping God, whom he loves and who he knows loves him beyond all comparison.

In my own years in the spiritual wilderness, in the time of my life when my soul was perpetually parched — and I often didn't even know it — I had lost sight of what was most important. I got wrapped up by and trapped in the world and its "stuff," and I projected that onto every reference and understanding of my childhood experience of the Catholic faith and, by extension, Christ.

As always, however, God had other plans for me. Since I wasn't open to much of anything for a time, He was unrelenting and patient, sending me gifts like a well placed song on a mistuned radio (Christian praise and worship music was a foundation of my conversion of heart, which is a story for another day), an overheard sermon on a television at the health club, a moment of clarity of spirit I couldn't explain. Woven throughout all of this over the course of years were references from this Psalm. When at last I sought Him out and looked here, I immediately recognized in myself the thirst of which

David spoke. It doesn't surprise me now that the very first time I returned to Mass, the responsorial psalm was, "My Soul is Thirsting."

David knew that you worship the one thing you really want. When we worship God, we are saying that He is what matters most to us. When we act in worshipful ways toward anything other than God through Jesus Christ, we are saying that this person, thing, or experience is of the highest value in our lives.

Even a good thing can be dangerous if it is allowed to replace God in our hearts. That thing may be a relationship, a dream, position, status, something you own, a name, a job or some kind of pleasure, but whatever that thing might be, this is what you have concluded in your heart is worth most to you. Worship, in essence, is declaring what you value the most. Recognizing this is a large reason I was able to open the door of my heart to the steady whisper of God in the Holy Spirit calling me back to Him.

I also know that keeping that in front of me and living that daily worship is difficult. Sometimes the hardest thing for me and for many is being able to identify the ways we are worshipping things of the world. How do you know what and where it is that you worship? You follow the trail of your time, your affection, your energy, your money and your allegiance, and at the end of that trail you'll find a throne. Whatever or whoever is on that throne is what is of highest value to you. On that throne is what you worship.

David is telling us here, "What I want most is God. You can have my kingdom; you can have my throne, but what I want is God." In the midst of his poverty, David holds onto the most valuable of all gifts. . . his faith and complete trust in his God. Here in the worst circumstances, God brings out the best in David and David expresses his thirst for the living God. We can do no less.

Those with the last names starting with A-G please bring salads, fruits or vegetables, H-N please bring desserts, O-U please bring hot dishes or entrees and V-Z please bring appetizers, breads or snacks.

If you are unable to bring an item to share, please come anyway as we will have plenty of food! If the weather is nice, we can take the picnic outdoors and play some yard games. Bring your lawn chairs, footballs, Frisbees, bean bag toss or whatever you like. If you plan to bring a crockpot or something that needs to be plugged in, you may drop it off before the 10:00 Mass.

If you have questions or would like to volunteer, please email Anne O'Keefe at aokeefe@stpeters.com or call her at 651-905-4308.

Extraordinary Ministers Needed

Please give this prayerful consideration.

There is a need for additional Extraordinary Ministers of Holy Communion (Eucharistic Ministers), particularly at the 5 p.m. and 11 a.m. Mass times. This is a beautiful ministry in which you assist in the distribution of the Precious Body and Blood of Christ to the congregation. The time commitment is minimal, as you serve at the Mass you attend anyway. You will be given complete training, which will take no more than an hour of your time. Please, prayerfully consider serving in this very important ministry. For more information, please contact Laurie Reding at lreding1@aol.com or 612-419-1709, or call the parish office at 651-452-4550.

Free Tours of the Historic Church

Have you ever wanted to hear more about the history of our parish? The Historic Church will be open for tours every Sunday from 12 noon to 2 p.m. now through Labor Day. You do not need a reservation and there is no fee for the tours. Feel free to stop in and learn about your community's very own historic site!

Peter's Pence Collection Next Weekend

We are called during this Year of Mercy.

The Peter's Pence Collection is an annual parish collection on the weekend of June 25 and 26. Pope Francis, in Misericordiae Vultus, calls us during this Year of Mercy to "...open our eyes and see the misery of the world...and let us recognize that we are compelled to heed their cry for help!" Peter's Pence is a collection uniting us with the Holy See to provide the Holy Father with the means to respond to suffering caused by war, natural disaster and religious persecution. This year, we can respond as witnesses of charity to the cries of our brothers and sisters by giving as generously as we are able to Peter's Pence and the Holy Father.

WINE: Women in the New Evangelization

WINE Hosts Summer Book Club June 18 - August 20

Join WINE: Women in the New Evangelization for its online summer book club! We will read Blessed Are You:

WINE will provide reflections and questions online, and all book club participants are invited to join the virtual conversation. For more information and to register, visit CatholicVineyard.com. If you have questions, email Sarah@CatholicVineyard.com.

Sacraments for the Homebound

Many in our community wish they were able to join us for Mass but are unable to do so. If you or a loved one has mobility limitations, or if declining health makes it difficult to participate in the sacramental life of the Church, please contact our pastoral associate to learn of the ways we can help. Often many go without, simply because we are not made aware of their needs. To add yourself or someone you love to our outreach ministry, or to hear about the many opportunities we offer, contact Lisa Amos at 651-905-4304 or lamos@stpetersmendota.org.

Interested in Becoming Catholic?

We would like to hear from you!

If you, or someone you know, has been thinking about becoming Catholic, we would very much like to hear from you! To begin, we'd like to get to know you and help you to learn more about the process and have your questions answered.

We look forward to helping those baptized in other Christian traditions, the unbaptized and anyone who may have already made their First Communion as a child but has not received the sacrament of Confirmation.

For more information or to schedule a private inquiry meeting to discuss your own faith journey, please contact Lisa Amos at 651-905-4304 or email lamos@stpetersmendota.org.
