The Exaltation of the Holy Cross

OUR VISION

We envision St. Peter's to be a dynamic and growing parish through our: expressions of faith and worship, service to one another and the broader community, welcoming new members, compassion and ministry in pastoral care, and stewardship of God's gifts and blessings.

OUR MISSION

The Church of St. Peter, the first Catholic parish in Minnesota, serves as a cornerstone of faith and heritage, where we welcome all to celebrate and live as the Body of Christ. We embrace our commitment to continue this founding legacy, care for future generations, and advance the Kingdom of God.

Reflections from our Pastoral Associate

This weekend, we hear part of a letter Paul has written from a prison cell. Paul's message to the Philippians has a very specific message of unity, the emergence of joy from suffering, and the defining characteristics of leadership modeled on that of Christ.

Paul emphasizes the significance of suffering in the growth of God's kingdom. His words resonate with tones of joy. I can't imagine that prisons in Paul's time were pleasant places to be, yet he offers joy from his place of suffering. He writes to the Philippians to show them that his imprisonment had not impeded the spread of the Gospel, but had actually hastened its expansion. He offers them that same joy-in-spite-of-suffering if they will embrace the Gospel message.

He doesn't tell them it will be easy, however. He admonishes them to carefully put on the humility of Christ. He warns them not to make the mistake of arrogance, not to do the work of God for their own vanity and glory. But, in the end, there is no suffering that God will not use for His good.

We are here, today, living out our personal and communal faith in the backdrop of yet another major challenge to our parish. We all have a role in shaping the way we respond to this moment in our history. Our hope, our trust in the God who wants only good for God's people, will permeate the very fabric of our community conversation. We can choose, as Paul did, to see the joy spring forth from suffering. For over 150 years our parish has weathered changes, challenges—thrived in the midst of hardship and transition.

How many of us have been, and continue to be, challenged because of the disturbing behavior of a few members of our local church? Not only do others often ask me why I still want to be Catholic, but in my lifetime I've also asked myself that question. This last year or more, I've certainly needed to pray about and think about what our Catholic faith truly means.

I recently read, "The Joy of the Gospel," Pope Francis's apostolic exhortation, and was uplifted and fortified by what our Holy Father has to say about this very question. He says, "The joy of the Gospel is such that it cannot be taken away by anyone or anything. The evils of our world—and those of the Church—must not be excuses for diminishing our commitment and our fervor. Let us look upon them as challenges which can help us to grow."

Like so many, I find great hope in Pope Francis's dedication to the mission of Jesus. I believe that one of the ways we can lean into our faith is to put it into practice. Pope Francis implements, every day, actions that are living examples of the Gospel at work in the world.

He goes on, "With the eyes of faith, we can see the light which the Holy Spirit always radiates in the midst of darkness, never forgetting that 'where sin increased, grace has abounded all the more' (Rom 5:20)." As we face the current darkness of our own local church's past and present, we have the ability to look, too, into the light of its mission. Catholic Christians have been doing amazingly loving things for centuries. That work goes on. It continues here at St. Peter's. It persists in the people—lay, religious sisters and brothers, deacons, and priests, of our Archdiocese. In the world, Pope Francis is an awesome example of the Light of Christ walking among us. The message of the Gospel is still joy. It is still the Good News.

Each one of us has a responsibility to be revelations of this joy. We are all leaders in some way. At work, in our homes, in shaping the faith of our children. Pope Francis's lesson in his letter and Paul's message regarding leadership with the mindset of Jesus help us to understand how to continue. Leadership in the Christian setting is very different from worldly leadership. Leaders outside of this context are prized for being out in front, making a name for themselves, giving orders and seeing them carried out. Not for us. Not for those leaders who model themselves after Christ. The demands of leadership as we value them are humility, our goal is not celebrity but to help others discover and use the gifts God has given them for the good of our community. If we've mimicked Jesus well, there will be many in our lives who won't have any idea who we are, but their lives and their faith will be enriched and empowered anyway.

For the sake of the world, and for our own, we must commit ourselves to finding the joy of the Gospels. Putting it into action in our daily lives will be a remedy for the afflictions we face today in the Church. The Church will go on. We can have hope that it will emerge from the darkness of sin abounding in grace.

Historic Church Resource Change

It is important to us that we are good stewards of your generosity and our parish resources. To that end, we will no longer be producing the pew sheet with antiphons and responses. As we have evaluated the stewardship of our parish resources, we have determined that this was redundant, as those are already printed in the missalettes also provided. Beginning September 29, please use the missalettes available as you enter for this purpose. If you would like a personal copy to keep, please contact Lisa Amos at 651-905-4304 or lamos@stpetersmendota.org for ordering information or recommendations.

A Community Caring for Life

A Community Caring for Life (ACCL) committee will begin meeting at 6:30 p.m. on Thursday, September 18, in Conference Room I. As always anyone interested in issues regarding the dignity of human life are welcome to attend. We have many events planned here at St. Peter's this year, and will be participating in Archdiocesan events as well.

The group is always looking for ways to serve our community. If you have any ideas for new ways ACCL can work for the respect of life at all stages, please call Carol Mulvihill at 651-453-1345.

Cathedral Special Collection September 20-21

Our beautiful Cathedral of Saint Paul requires everyone's help! Please consider a sacrificial gift for this collection to assist with alleviating the remaining $4.7 million dollar debt resulting from emergency exterior restoration. Many thanks to all those who generously contributed to last year's collection to care for our Mother Church.

Envelopes for this special collection will be available next weekend. Checks should be made out to the parish if you are putting it in the collection basket or to the Archdiocese of Saint Paul and Minneapolis with "Cathedral Second Collection" written on the memo line if you are mailing the envelope directly to the Archdiocese. Archbishop John Ireland relied on every Catholic's support to build this great monument of faith and so we need everyone's support now to preserve it for future generations. For more information, please call the Archdiocesan Development Office at 651-290-1610.
